Navigating the Insurance Landscape: Regulation and Innovation in the European Insurance Markets

University Carlos III of Madrid
Campus Puerta de Toledo-Auditorio
Ronda de Toledo, 1, 28005 Madrid

How is the insurance market reacting to the challenges of the changing world? Is it quick enough to keep up with the rapid climate change, technological innovation, societal trends and geopolitical realignment?

Throughout the world, natural catastrophes are now a different reality and there is increased mobility for the creation of new structures for prevention and recovery. At the same time, the means to communicate with clients and the risks which they are facing are evolving. Are there universal trends or should individualized needs be the focus? What is the way to effectively encompass both universal and individual needs? Is regulation moving to address the changing model of insurance, and is technology utilized as a useful tool?

These and more questions will be the subject of insightful and vivid presentations, exchanges and dialogue at the 11th AIDA Europe Conference in Madrid. Participants are invited to meet specialists and engage with academics, practitioners, regulators, technologists, strategists and business experts. The programme strives to combine legal, business and technology aspects which will provide the real dynamics of Regulation and Innovation in the Insurance Market.

As a bonus, you will have the opportunity to meet and spend time with your peers in the imposing and vibrant city of Madrid, with its many attractions and places-to-be.
